

Badges of Association

This growing collection of patches, and ones like them, once decorated the jackets, shirts, hats, jumpsuits, and purses of EAAers. The bulk comes from EAA's many chapters. The remainder are from past EAA conventions, fly-ins, and divisions, plus a few one-of-kind patches, custom-made by individual members. The patches vary in size, from a half-dollar to a large tortilla and sport a colorful symbol that uniquely identifies a chapter or event. Whether sewn, hot-glued, or duct-taped, these badges of association all share the common thread of EAA.
